New Resident Relocation Packet†

THE BELOIT EXPERIENCE

Beloit is an alloy of strength, beauty, and diversity all melded together into a community that works. The backgrounds and attitudes of the citizens of Beloit come together to forge a beauty unlike any other place. Enriched by the past, and fueled by the city's cultural diversity, Beloit forges ahead to craft something new and beautiful. We invite you to become part of Beloit, you'll fit right in.

Be. Come. Beloit.

Welcome to Beloit!

So, you are considering moving to Beloit? Join the club. I made the move in 2015 with my wife and son. It was a new state for us, let alone a new city. All the usual questions kept us up late at night. Will we find somewhere to live? What are the schools like? Does Beloit have cultural activities we enjoy? We didn’t know anyone here and had no pre-established connections to build from. Plenty of things to be concerned about, right? Those questions all were answered quickly once we made the move here.

This Relocation Guide is meant to serve as a simple way to help kick start your planning process. Moving to a new city isn’t easy, but with some of these resources you should be able to at least start the process. Beloit and its surrounding communities are filled with generous and kind people who are ready to embrace you with open arms. Be prepared – we all want to know why you are moving here. We ask that because Beloit is creating a secret recipe that is the envy of many in Wisconsin and beyond.

We have had the right blend of new companies moving and expanding here, various housing types, a beautiful riverfront and outdoor spaces to explore, and the ideal mix of unique eateries, retailers, and experiences that always provide my family and I enough things to do to stay busy. At our core, we are a small city with big shoulders. You can easily move here and make a difference. That is something I love. Want to get involved? We have the opportunities. Want to build a successful business? It can happen here. Want to grow your family? Beloit is a multi-generational city that embraces those who choose to make this home. This is a place you are going to love and one that will love you back.

Welcome to Beloit. We are not only glad that you are here; we are thrilled that you are here. I can’t wait to hear your story.

Warmest welcome,
Celestino Ruffini
CEO, Visit Beloit

WORK IN BELOIT

The greater Beloit region takes great pride in its diverse array of business sectors and the strong professional community that supports local workforce growth. With several major metropolitan areas a short distance away, residents can call Beloit home while easily enjoying and accessing the attractions and airports found in the larger cities nearby.

Beloit has a robust and thriving economy that includes three billion-dollar companies, a start-up business incubator, and hundreds of family-owned businesses. Beloit is in an ideal geographic location with outstanding infrastructure primarily served by the confluence of three interstates – I-90, I-39, and I-43, as well as its proximity to raw materials and major population centers such as Madison, WI, Milwaukee, WI, Chicago, IL, and Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN. Beloit originally was focused on traditional manufacturing and trade-based skills, but has evolved to include food production, financial services, technology, and health care.

LIVE IN BELOIT

The greater Beloit region is a wonderful place to live at every stage of life. We consider our region a “10-Mile City” which encompasses the area extending 10 miles in every direction from Beloit’s City Center to include all of, or a portion of, three counties in the Wisconsin-Illinois state line area. From luxury apartments to beautiful neighborhoods, you will find the perfect home in the area. It is recommended to contact a local real estate agent in order to learn about current housing inventory and the latest local trends.
